The voice of the Flow Battery Sector

Our mission

Flow Batteries Europe (FBE) represents flow battery stakeholders with a unified voice, working to shape the long-term development and growth of the flow battery sector.

FBE brings together key stakeholders to support the research, development, commercialisation and deployment of flow battery technologies across Europe and the world.

We help shape a supportive EU regulatory framework for flow batteries, contribute to policy and decision-making processes.

Your opportunity to grow

Join the leading community shaping the future of Europe's flow battery market.

Reach new clients and gain visibility

Connect with 30+ organisations across the flow battery value chain and increase your visibility among manufacturers, suppliers and end-users.

Unlock early market opportunities

We support the development of early demand in key segments where flow batteries can scale first, and market instruments for revenue certainty.

Access EU funding opportunities

We position flow batteries as a strategic asset to be supported in EU funding and financing schemes, to accelerate clean energy investments.
